EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with J. Crawford on 12/1/2003.

The application has been amended as follows:

In the specification:

On page 4, line 18, after "alternate.", --The spring shaft having a coupling 100 attached to an end for connection to a tool.-- has been inserted.

2. The following changes to the drawings have been approved by the examiner and agreed upon by applicant: In figure 1, applicant will provide a box representation of the coupling. The coupling is a conventional feature of these types of apparatus. In order to avoid abandonment of the application, applicant must make these above agreed upon drawing changes.

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art does not disclose nor render obvious the claimed combination of an apparatus comprising a rotating coil spring forming a spring shaft rotated by drive jaws of a driving machine, said rotating coil spring shaft having a coupling at an end for connecting a tool selected from the group consisting of drills, cutterheads, thrashing chains heads, pipe brushes, root cutters and mud drills and having windings of spring steel forming said rotating coil spring shaft and having a rotation axis and a coiled winding axis, the windings having at least on their exterior a cross section different from the circular shape, wherein at least the exterior of the windings is profiled such that said spring shaft acts by rotation and a screw guidance in the pipe with at least one sharp edge scrapingly on contamination of the pipe walls. Additionally, the prior art does not disclose nor render obvious the claimed combination of a method of removing contamination on an inner pipe wall comprising inserting an apparatus into a pipe lumen having contamination on an inner pipe wall, said apparatus comprising a coil spring forming a spring shaft with windings of spring steel and with a rotation axis and a coiled winding axis, wherein the windings having at least on their exterior a cross section different from the circular shape and the exterior of the windings, and rotating said coil spring such that said spring shaft acts with at least one edge scrapingly with the inner pipe wall to remove contamination from the inner pipe wall. Further, the prior art does not disclose nor render obvious the claimed combination of a method of removing contamination on an inner pipe wall comprising inserting an apparatus of claim 21 into a pipe lumen having contamination on an inner pipe wall, said apparatus comprising a coil spring forming a spring shaft with windings of spring steel and with a rotation axis and a coiled winding axis, wherein the windings having at least on their exterior a cross section different from the circular shape and the exterior of the windings, and rotating said coil spring such that said spring shaft acts with at least one edge scrapingly with the inner pipe wall to remove contamination from the inner pipe wall.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
